Dear Colleagues

On the behalf of Baba Farid University of Health Sciences (BFUHS), it is my great pleasure and privilege in extending you a cordial invitation to participate in the conference TELECON 2016, SINPMS, Badal.

The SINPMS is one of the constituent institute of BFUHS, Faridkot. It is a centre for e-learning in nursing services; as a joint venture of BFUHS and University of British Columbia Vancouver Canada. Institute was established in 2001 by Punjab Health Systems Corporation with primary objective to strengthen the training capacity for female candidates of rural and backward area of Punjab. It was undertaken by BFUHS in 2007. Presently, Institute is imparting training in total 9+2 programmes in different health disciplines; various UG & PG programmes of nursing and paramedical sciences (physiotherapy, lab technology, & radiography). Recently the process of two new programmes for training home health care workers/skilled health care workers has also been undertaken.

Keeping in mind the need of the hour with ongoing transformation of health care through application of information technology with greater availability and new opportunities from end user point of view; this conference has been planned as multidisciplinary approach to bring together the health care professionals and related field/s at one podium.

Telehealth in health care practice is the delivery of health care services to the needy & unreached, where technology is a critical factor. Health communication and health information technology are central to health care. Health professionals use information and communication technologies for the exchange of valid information in health care practice, research and evaluation, and for continuing education of health care providers & health seekers, all in the interests of advancing the health of individuals and the way our society views health. India has a unique position as global technology and software solutions to reach modern health care solutions with improved efficiency and productivity.

A series of topics in workshop convened under primary theme would be a valuable forum to support and restore healthier life style. This will bridge gap between where we are and what is needed to sustain ourself as an individual and collective.

This Nuts-and Bolts Conference will share knowledge and experience in use of technology in a blend of professionals to update you in the field.

Apart from the scientific programme, & social events, the conference will provide an excellent opportunity to forge new relationships with co-professionals from across the country.

We look forward to welcome you at SINPMS, Badal for the conference.

With Best Regards

Prof. (Dr.) Raj Bahadur
the Vice Chancellor,
BFUHS
