

Dear Colleagues

Health professionals play a central and critical role in improving access and quality health care for the population. They provide essential services that promote health, prevent diseases and deliver health care services to individuals, families and communities. In order to provide quality care, concept of traditional care has been shifted to scientific basis of care and such a base comes from evidence-based research. Research is systematic enquiry that uses disciplined methods to answer questions or solve problems. The ultimate goal of research is to develop, refine and expand a body of knowledge. Nurses and doctors are increasingly engaged in disciplined studies that benefit the profession, its patients and it contributes to the improvement in the entire health care system. Nursing and medical research has experienced remarkable growth in the past three decades in providing health care to the beneficiaries.
