YUAMANTHAN EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING PROGRAMMES

IGNITING INDIA'S JOURNEY TO 2047: VISION OF A DEVELOPED INDIA

INTRODUCTION

In a momentous address on the 77th Independence Day, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi juxtaposed the era of "Amrit" with the epoch of "Kartavya" - a time synonymous with duty and responsibility. The Prime Minister emphasized that today's decisions will reverberate across the ages, their impacts resonating over a span of a millennium. With a resolute vision of propelling India into the League of developed nations by 2047, the Prime Minister outlined the pivotal role the forthcoming five years will play.

The Prime Minister specifically highlighted India's biggest competitive advantage of being the youngest country in the world. With unwavering determination, the government has harnessed the power of these resolutions to revolutionise key sectors, empower the youth, and lay the foundation for a prosperous future.

As we embark upon the "Kartavya kaal" it becomes imperative to foster greater youth participation and inclusion, channelling our collective efforts towards achieving the vision of a new India by the year 2047, marking a century of our cherished freedom.

Earlier in 2022, the Prime Minister ignited the spirit of a resurgent India by introducing the concept of 'Panch Pran'—a set of lifeblood resolves that will propel the nation to realise the vision of the relentless pursuit of India's socio-economic goals towards becoming a developed nation by 2047. These are:

- Pran 1: Make India a developed nation by 2047
- Pran 2: Seek freedom from servility
- Pran 3: Take pride in our heritage and legacy like yoga, Ayurveda
- Pran 4: Strive for unity, solidarity, harmony and bonhomie
- Pran 5: Fulfil all duties of responsible citizens

With a focus on health, wellness, energy security, indigenous manufacturing, digital transformation, skill development, and citizen empowerment, India is poised to emerge as a global leader by 2047—the year that marks a century of independence. The foundations have been laid, and the youth of India will carry the torch forward, ensuring that India's journey towards prosperity and glory continues unabated.

The youth of India, with their ideas, innovative thinking, and determination, hold the key to India's transformative journey. By actively participating in the government's initiatives, developing growth mindsets, embracing resilience, and ensuring inclusive growth, they can contribute to the realization of India's vision to become a developed nation by 2047. It is through their collective efforts and unwavering commitment that India will carve a path of progress, prosperity, and global leadership.

YUVAMANTHAN MISSION 2047 - A BACKGROUND

The CBSE in 2022 announced an expression series on 'My vision for India at 100 years', the programmes included submission of essays, poems and drawings. Taking a cue from the same and our honourable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi's clarion call to people to take the five pledges (Panch Prans), Yuvamanthan has created a series of year-long experiential programmes which include a Model United Nations, Model G20, Hackathon and a Youth Parliament.

The Government of India has unveiled its ambitious vision to transform the nation into a developed country by 2047. As part of this transformative journey, Yuvamanthan is committed to actively engaging with students, educating them about key government initiatives, and encouraging them to contribute their ideas to shape a roadmap for India's future. Yuvamanthan will integrate our honourable PM's Panch Prans in its experiential learning programmes and execute a meaningful engagement strategy for the youth through a series of engagement activities with the students.

Following the resounding success of Yuvamanthan Model G20 summits in India, Yuvamanthan will introduce captivating events which involve self-awareness, inclusivity, role sharing, and innovation as guiding principles. Yuvamanthan equips the youth with the skills, knowledge, and passion to build a better tomorrow - a future that is sustainable, inclusive, and peaceful. These activities will inform students about the current initiatives of the government and generate groundbreaking ideas from the students for India's journey towards becoming a developed nation by 2047.

YUVAMANTHAN MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Yuvamanthan Model United Nations (YMUN), is an exhilarating academic simulation that propels students into the world of international diplomacy. At YMUN, young learners and professionals will come together to hone their skills in public speaking, diplomacy, and problem-solving, all while representing different countries and tackling pressing global issues. They will brace themselves for an unforgettable journey where they step into the shoes of delegates, navigating the complexities of real-world challenges armed with the policies and perspectives of their assigned nation.

With our groundbreaking Yuvamanthan Model G20, we created a platform designed specifically for students to showcase their talent and ignite their passion for global affairs. The same platform is where the action begins with institutional-level conferences hosted by schools, colleges, and universities. As they compete alongside their peers, the winners of these conferences will earn the opportunity to advance to a bigger-level conference, competing against the best and brightest minds from across the country.

Our objective with YMUN is twofold. Firstly, we strive to deepen the understanding of the students of the United Nations, fostering a rich educational experience that transcends the traditional classroom. By engaging in simulations that replicate the structures and decision-making processes of the UN, the students will gain invaluable insights into the workings of this vital international organization. Secondly, we are dedicated to equipping the students with the skills of diplomacy, negotiation, and critical thinking that are indispensable in today's interconnected world. YMUN empowers them to become knowledgeable global citizens, who comprehend not only their own nation's choices but also the broader implications of these decisions on a regional and global scale.

Under the Yuvamanthan Model United Nations for India@2047, the idea is to come up with new strategies, themes, and solutions that can be implemented in every sector pervasively to:

- ❖ Reach new heights of prosperity
- ❖ Mitigate any disastrous situations like recessions, pandemics, etc. with resilience
- ❖ Provide the newest technology and services to both urban and rural sectors
- ❖ Build the most advanced modern infrastructure in the world
- ❖ Becoming the most powerful nation in terms of equity, diversity and harmony provides a systematic forum, facilitated by seasoned moderators, where national issues are simulated and discussed on a grand scale.

This immersive platform empowers students and young participants to delve into current economic, socio-political, and cultural matters. Through a mock simulation of parliamentary proceedings, students assume the roles of Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha members, collaboratively devising potential solutions.

By actively participating in the model youth parliament sessions, YMYP focuses on grooming a youth-centric approach to governance training. Students undergo rigorous preparation, testing, and engagement in real-life political agenda meetings, where they express opinions and propose resolutions. Through this process, they develop confidence, resilience, and exceptional communication skills for the betterment of the nation.

The YMYP strives to achieve the following objectives:

- Encourage youth to devise innovative and creative solutions for pressing national issues.
- Actively engage the youth in the realm of politics, fostering their participation and leadership.
- Inform the youth about various government-led initiatives and campaigns, creating informed citizens.
- Foster a comprehensive understanding of administrative and political landscapes among the youth.
- Engage the youth in meaningful and constructive debates, honing their soft skills and oratory abilities.
- Developing growth mindsets, embracing resilience, and ensuring inclusive growth.

As we step into the 'Amrit Kaal,' a future that embraces inclusivity and progress, initiatives like the YMYP hold the key to shaping capable leaders who are equipped with self-awareness, collaboration, and innovation. These youth-centric endeavours lay the foundation for their success and active contribution towards a prosperous India.

ORGANISATION OF YUVAMANTHAN EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING EVENTS

A true challenge awaits on the horizon. By 2030, the median age of India's population is forecasted to be 31, while a staggering 90 million new households will be under the stewardship of millennials. This breed of digital natives brings a paradigm shift in consumption trends and expectations from both the public and private sectors. In the face of this transformative landscape, the call for profound change echoes loudly.

Achieving success in this transformation necessitates the cultivation of novel competencies. These new-age capabilities are forged through experiential learning, a methodology that thrives on the intricate interplay between knowledge and hands-on experience. Pioneering educators like John Dewey and Jean Piaget, even tracing back to ancient Greek wisdom, discovered the inseparable bond between knowledge and experience. Their teachings underscored the need to honour this link, with an emphasis on learning grounded in real-life encounters.

In the 21st century, initiatives like 'Aatma Nirbhar Bharat' fortify the path to progress. India finds itself at a pivotal crossroads, where the upcoming years bear the weight of shaping its destiny. These years carry the monumental responsibility of shaping the trajectory toward India's aspiration of attaining developed nation status by 2047. The time has come to seize the reins and steer the course toward a promising future.

Keeping in mind the above, Yuvamanthan has created a series of immersive, engaging and empowering experiential learning activities for the youth to step into the shoes of scientists, politicians, global diplomats and representatives of different nations. These events will engage students from primary classes up to senior secondary. The Yuvamanthan India @2047 mission is created specifically for the youth to discuss and provide solutions to power India's journey towards becoming a developed country. Through poly-cultural research and the orchestration of real-life situations, Yuvamanthan provides an invaluable opportunity for the youth to solve India's critical challenges through a series of meetings where they role-play Indian and international policymakers and engage in consensus building, international relations and diplomacy.
